

MAKERERE UNIVERSITY

Exploring how to improve understanding of sustainable and healthy neighbourhoods through youth participation in Kisenyi Slum, Kampala, Uganda

Contact: Doreen Tuhebwe, Makerere University School of Public Health dtuhebwe@musph.ac.ug

Resources in Kisenyi slum		Hazards and vulnerabilities in Kisenyi slum
Roads	Piped water	Poor housing	Betting/gambling centres that expose youth to addiction
Public toilets	Water spring	Noise pollution from maize milling machines	Wide spread lodges that promote child sex work
Permanent residential houses	Strategic location of Kisenyi in the city center	Poor sanitation and hygiene due to poor garbage disposal and inadequate toilets	Blocked drainage channels and open trenches
Health facilities, drug shops and pharmacies in the community	Cheap labour	Sexual abuse due to hooliganism	Drug and substance selling
Schools within the community.	Affordable accommodation	Sex work	Bars
Churches	Affordable rent for business	Insecurity due to criminal gangs	Unemployed youth
Electricity	Non-governmental organizations that support development work	Vulgarity mostly affecting young children	